Russia Wants Payment

Seeks $600,000,000 Reparations From Italy

LONDON, Sept. 17 (P).—Russia was reported authoritatively tonight to have asked for $600,000,000 in material reparations from Italy at today's session of the Foreign Ministers' Council.

The Soviet Union was said to be the only one of the Big Five powers which asked for payment from the Italians, who had sent some divisions against the Soviets on the Eastern front.

The Russian request was reported to have been discussed all afternoon without an agreement being reached by the ministers.

Earlier Yugoslavia, backed by Russia, asked the council for a sizeable slice of Italian territory, including the important port of Trieste. Discussion on this issue was postponed until tomorrow at the request of the Yugoslav delegation, owing to the indisposition of the Yugoslav vice-premier, Edward Karelj.

While a communiqué issued after today's meeting made no mention of reparations, they were reliably reported to have been a main subject of the Foreign Ministers of Britain, the United States, Russia, France and China.

Britain and the United States have made it clear that they want no reparations from Italy.

Present at this afternoon's session were Dr. Herbert E. Evans, Australian External Affairs Minister; Dr. R. M. Campbell, acting High Commissioner of New Zealand; and G. H. H. Nicholson, High Commissioner for South Africa.

Meanwhile the council considered a directive to guide the "Big Five" deputies in drafting a peace treaty for Italy. It chiefly concerned disposition of the Italian colonial empire.

ITALIAN HELD ISLANDS SOUGHT

Besides Trieste and Venezia Giulia—the so-called "Julian March"—Yugoslavia asked for the Italian-held islands off the Yugoslav coast and the Italian province of Zara on the Dalmatian seaboard.

"Italy's greed and her aggressive policy towards her neighbors" brought about the territorial dispute, the Yugoslavs charged in a 9,000-word document supporting their claim on a variety of historical, geographical and other grounds.

Italy's counter-claims—demanding the retention of the territory, with the possible exception of Fiume at the eastern tip—are expected to be presented tomorrow by the Italian Foreign Minister, Alcide De Gasperi.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily News.

(Copyright, 1945, by Thomson Co.) LONDON, Sept. 17.—The picture of the present state of Germany is of a broad area in the centre of Europe, gradually lapsing into social disintegration. The Times says today in an editorial entitled "The State of Germany."

Revelation and lethargy, which have made up the prevailing mood of the German people since their final recognition of overwhelming defeat is still not lifted. Neither the will nor the capacity for self-help are yet present in any notable degree.

It is impossible to leave Germany helpless and rudderless without courting disaster. Someone must make crucial decisions. Measures of repression and precaution, however necessary, are not enough in themselves.

A constant stream of pitiable refugees is flowing around and into and through Berlin from the East, thus aggravating every problem of overcrowding and malnutrition. Allied enquiry into the food position which opened this week has been undertaken none too soon.

Minor measures of relief so far taken, laudable in themselves, are quite inadequate to avert disaster. More radical, political and economic measures are called for.

Ford Plant Still Is Idle

Protection for Office Workers Is Refused

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 17 (P).—As a deadlock continued tonight between the Ford Motor Company of Canada and Local 300 of the United Automobile Workers Union (C.I.O.) in the strike involving an estimated 18,000 employees of Ford, the Windsor Police Commission held a special meeting to define its procedure.

Judge J. J. Coughlin, chairman of the Windsor Police Commission, stated after the meeting that for the benefit of the great number involved in the strike the commission felt it advisable to make public the nature of the duties of the police. This is that "wherever in the course of the strike any action contrary to criminal law is committed by an individual the individual should be prosecuted by the police."

It was understood that the commission did not feel inclined to offer the company protection for persons desiring to cross the picket lines around the sprawling automotive works.

Union officials today said they would keep the plant closed until the company accedes to demands for a union shop and dues check-off, as well as other provisions sought in a new bargaining agreement.

DETROIT, Sept. 17 (P).—The United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) Union, opening its battle for a 30-per-cent general wage increase in the face of growing unemployment through contract cancellation, strikes and shut-downs in the Detroit area, tonight heard rumblings of dissension within its own ranks.

The area including Windsor, Ont., and Flint, Mich., had some $2,000 workers idle through strikes and shut-downs with some 220,000 reported jobless following war-contract cancellations.

As union officials went ahead with plans for strike votes at the plants of General Motors, Chrysler Corporation and Ford Motor Company, they heard reports on their failure to persuade 4,500 Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Company strikers to halt their unauthorized walk-out. It was this strike—now three weeks old—that company officials said had forced the closing of Ford Motor Company plants throughout the country with resulting idleness for 50,000.

May Proceed With Kinney Case Today

There was every indication yesterday that after two adjournments the preliminary hearing on a charge of murder against Charles Kinney, 17, would proceed before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court tomorrow morning.

When Kinney first appeared in police court on September 4, following his arrest the previous day, G. H. Sedger, defence counsel, requested a week's adjournment. He made a similar request on September 11, when the hearing was set over to September 18. In both instances, C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, raised no objection.

"We anticipate going on on Wednesday," Mr. Sedger said yesterday.

STEAL RED CROSS MONEY

HONGKONG, Sept. 17 (Reuters).—Japanese theft of money sent by the Red Cross for prisoners taken by the enemy at Hongkong was charged today by Capt. D. D. Mann, representing the colonial office's Prisoners of War and Refugees Department, who said the Japanese appropriated all but a fraction of $72,000 sent monthly to Hongkong.

Charge Millions Perished

Trial of Kramer and 44 Henchmen Starts

LUENEBERG, Germany, Sept. 17 (P).—Testimony that more than 4,000,000 persons died at the Auschwitz concentration camp in Poland was promised by the prosecution today at the opening of the military trial of Josef Kramer and 44 S.S. henchmen for conspiracy to commit mass murder.

A converted gymnasium in the heart of this picturesque medieval city served as a courtroom for the British military court trying Kramer—known as the "beast of Belsen"—for the regime of horror he instituted at that camp after his transfer from Auschwitz—and the 23 men and 21 women who served under him.

At the start, Maj. Gen. H. P. M. Bernley-Pickin, heading the court, brushed aside efforts of British officers defending the accused to get separate trials on the Auschwitz and Belsen Camp charges.

Then Col. T. M. Backhouse, chief prosecutor, capped a cold, precise, two-hour-long recital of the incredible crimes charged to the 45 men with a disclosure that he had a witness who had seen records of 4,000,000 deaths at Auschwitz.

Mass starvation, beatings and torture, filth and disease and despair, prisoners driven to cannibalism—that was the picture Col. Backhouse painted for the men trying the Nazis, by Royal Warrant, on behalf of all Allied countries whose nationals suffered in the camp.

Throughout, the sullen Kramer and his stone-faced co-defendants sat impassive, under guard of British military police and British Auxiliary Territorial Service members serving as wardresses.

Twelve of them, including Kramer and the S.S. woman Irma Grese who, Backhouse said, had been called the worst of the women guards, were charged with crimes at Auschwitz, where Kramer commanded the Birkenau compound, infamous as the biggest and worst of Germany's mass-murder factories, until he moved to Belsen five months before the British armies liberated it on April 15.

Reviewing conditions at the Belsen hellhole—where some British Parliamentary investigators arriving soon after its capture, fainted or suffered nausea—Col. Backhouse told the court that 13,000 corpses, along with 12,000 living men and 28,000 women, were found there.

In the first six weeks, he said, 13,000 more persons died and 11,000 were sent to hospital.

Plan Disbanding Of Victoria Civil Defence Set-Up

The war emergency committee of the City Council will meet this afternoon at 2 to make plans for disbanding Victoria's Civil Defence organization.

Mayor Perry E. George, chairman, said yesterday that the meeting would deal with a letter from W. C. Mainwaring, chairman of the advisory council of the Provincial Civilian Protection Committee, announcing the end of the organization.

Inspector A. H. Bishop, Civil Defence controller, and Aldermen H. M. Dixon and J. A. Worthington will attend the meeting.

300 Canadians, Prisoners Since Hongkong, on Way Home Today

MANILA, Sept. 17 (P).—Some 300 able-bodied Canadian soldiers, prisoners of war since the grim Hongkong campaign of December, 1941, looked forward tonight to their departure tomorrow en route to the homes they have not seen for nearly four years.

Their morale was boosted when they received their first Canadian Army pay since they fell into Japanese hands. The officers each received $200 in United States currency; the other ranks each received $100.

A long line of prisoners formed outside the orderly room at the Canadian section of the reception depot here where the liberated men, brought from camps in Japan and in the Hongkong area, are being housed. The names were called and the Canadians stepped up cheerfully to receive crisp notes which Staff Sgt. Harry McNaughton, of Winnipeg, the poet of Samahupo Camp at Kowloon, called "real money."

In the Wake of the Atomic Bomb in Nagasaki

A STREET car (top photo), caught on the tracks when the atomic bomb descended on Nagasaki, was flattened right down, with only portions of the sides left upright. The step used to board the car still stands (right). Blasted buildings in background attest to the devastation. A Japanese family moved back to the spot where their house stood before the devastation created by the atomic bomb unleashed on Nagasaki. Right in the centre of the rubble (bottom photo), they constructed this crude shack from pieces of tin they found lying around. The mother and her son are eating their usual meal—rice. More than 18,000 buildings were completely destroyed and 26,000 persons were killed.

200,000 Regular Troops May Rule Japan Within Short Time

TOKIO, Sept. 17 (P).—Gen. MacArthur, forecasting early and "complete demobilization" of his triumphant Pacific army of draftees, declared today that 200,000 regular troops probably could rule Japan.

The State Department at Washington, surprised by the statement, planned to investigate it. One official said it was feared the impression would spread abroad that the United States was planning to withdraw at an early date, leaving the Japanese largely in charge of their own affairs.

The Navy Headquarters at Pearl Harbor disclosed that Admiral Halsey would leave Japan next Thursday for the United States. His Third Fleet forces remaining in Japanese waters will be assigned to Admiral Raymond A. Spruance's Fifth Fleet. Vice-Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher, commander of the North Pacific Fleet which had assumed charge of early occupation operations in Northern Japan, also will leave soon for his headquarters in the Aleutians.

Gen. MacArthur said the occupation was so smooth that plans for military rule were junked and those thereby freed from duty would go home as fast as ships could take them. He estimated that military rule operating without the Japanese Government would take "several million troops" to enforce.

The Japanese showed their cooperation by shelving militarist-tainted Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu and replacing him with Shigeru Yoshida, veteran diplomat once jailed for opposing the war.

Simultaneously Gen. MacArthur put into effect a drastic re-education program designed by dint of press, radio and the public schools to lead Japan's millions from militarism to the ways of democracy.

Four more suspected Japanese war criminals were locked in Yokohama Prison, where once some Allied prisoners languished. Twenty-nine of the 46 on Gen. MacArthur's wanted list now are in custody. Two others were suicides.

11-Gen. Yoshio Shinotsuka, classmate of War Dictator Hideki Tojo in Japan's military academy and former member of the Supreme War Council, committed suicide by cutting his throat with his samurai sword, the newspaper Asahi said. He was not on the wanted list.

With everything running smoothly, Gen. MacArthur moved his headquarters to Tokyo. There he announced his plans for the drastic cut in the forces of occupation, which his lieutenants only recently were saying must number at least 400,000 men.

"No greater gamble has been taken in history than the initial landings, where our ground forces were outnumbered 1,000 to one, but the stakes were worth it," Gen. MacArthur declared in a statement.

"At first, he said, the 'unknown quantity' in the occupation was 'the debatable question whether a military Government would have to be set up.'

Military rule would have involved a force running into millions of our men and would have taken many years of additional time and untold billions of additional dollars," the supreme commander declared.

TROOPSHIP DUE

QUEBEC, Sept. 17 (P).—The troopship Scythia, with 1,389 returning servicemen aboard, is due to arrive at this port tomorrow morning. It was learned today. Previously the liner's arrival had been announced for some time today.

TO SPEAK ON INDIA

LONDON, Sept. 17 (P).—Prime Minister Attlee will broadcast to Britain at 9:15 p.m. (1:45 p.m. P.D.T.) Wednesday on the subject of India. The Ministry of Information announced this tonight but did not elaborate.

R.C.A.F. Leaving Belmont Building

Personnel of the Royal Canadian Air Force will vacate the Belmont Building in the near future. It was learned yesterday from Squadron Leader A. L. Mills, commanding officer of the R.C.A.F. unit.

He explained the unit was to be disbanded, some personnel would be discharged and others would be posted to other R.C.A.F. stations. Office supplies and equipment are being moved from the building. The unit occupied the complete upper floor of the building.

The unit has been stationed here since R.C.A.F. Group No. 2 left the premises in March, 1944. Prior to that time, Western Air Command was stationed in the building.

"Our work here has been strictly secret and confidential," Squadron Leader Mills stated yesterday. He explained that since Western Air Command moved into the building in November, 1939, a great deal of work had been accomplished relative to the defence of British Columbia.

The disbanding of the unit will affect several hundred persons, many of whom are members of the Women's Division of the R.C.A.F. The W.D. personnel were quartered at Kildonan House.

It was not disclosed who will occupy the premises after the R.C.A.F. unit departs.

To Supply Relief

LONDON, Sept. 17 (P).—The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration said tonight it had concluded a formal agreement to supply relief to the Polish Provisional Government. In Warsaw, the relief agency said it already had shipped 60,000 tons of food and 60,000 tons of other supplies to Poland.

INTERNEES QUIT SHIP

SINGAPORE, Sept. 17 (Reuters).—Allied civilians liberated from Japanese internment camps walked off their Britain-bound ship today because they were "dissatisfied and disillusioned" with conditions under which they were expected to travel. The former internees complained of inadequate accommodation, especially for the elderly and sick, poor meals and unsatisfactory sanitary arrangements.

It was believed discussions on the plan were now taking place in London.

British High Commissioner Malcolm MacDonald said here he knew nothing of the plan.

Howe Predicts Jobs to Exceed Prewar Total by 1,000,000

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (P).—R.C. construction Minister Howe said tonight in the Commons the Government's plans for the reconstruction period now were in operation with results so far "reasonably satisfactory," and, with a great expansion in industry expected during the next year, there would be 1,000,000 additional jobs to what there were before the war.

Seasonable unemployment later this year would be coupled with a heavier flow of discharges from the forces. This might bring about pockets of unemployment in some areas. However, in other areas there still would be shortages of labor.

It was hoped that labor would gradually settle into its peacetime pursuits.

It was only a few weeks since Japan surrendered and in that period war orders having a value of $150,000,000 a month had been cancelled. It was not surprising that there was some dislocation and some concern among workers laid off, he said.

Meat Sales Stop Here at Week-End If Still Rationed

Victoria Retailers Decide on Action—Other Centres in East Decide on Similar Moves

Retail meat dealers of Victoria area will close down after Saturday unless the Government rescinds the order which re-introduced meat rationing on September 10.

The decision was made last night at a meeting of the Vancouver Island Retail Meat Dealers' Association, recently formed to fight the rationing order.

Telegrams stating the association's stand were sent last night to Hon. J. L. Tully, Minister of Finance; George Matthews, Vancouver representative of the Retail Merchants' Association, now at Ottawa to discuss the meat question, and to dealers at Nanaimo and Armstrong, B.C., and North Arm, Chatham and Hamilton, Ont.

The telegram, "approved almost unanimously by the meeting of more than 70 dealers, read:

"Mass meeting of Victoria and district meat retailers reiterate their former stand that rationing order be rescinded and quota or some other arrangement made. All stores in this association will close on September 22 for an indefinite period in protest should our request be ignored."

DECISION APPROVED ONE WEEK AGO

A week ago the Victoria dealers approved the proposed "strike" but withheld action pending word from other Canadian cities.

Meat packers here will be advised today of the dealers' decision so that the packers may prepare to stop shipments. C. A. Conrad, acting president of the association, stated.

The telegram was drawn up by a committee named a week ago, which was empowered last night to carry on the association's business for two months. After some argument the meeting approved the committee's recommendation for the association's name.

The dealers will limit their purchases of meat this week so that they can sell all their stock by the end of Saturday's business.

During discussion one dealer proposed that members of the association should agree to buy no new stocks after Saturday, then close next week as soon as they were sold out. Another member said this might mean that some dealers would stock up this week to stay open as long as possible.

Some members favored postponing action until the result of an Ottawa conference tomorrow is made known. Mr. Conrad told the meeting that if the Government made a compromise proposal that the dealers might accept; another meeting could be called.

When Mr. Conrad announced at the start of the meeting that Vancouver retailers had asked whether Victoria dealers wished Mr. Matthews to represent them at Ottawa, some members declared that Mr. Matthews did not favor complete cessation of rationing but removal of some products from the ration list.

J. C. Stuart, a member of the association committee, said: "We are interested in fresh meats. I have more meat last week than during the past six months."

One man's advocacy that the Victoria dealers form a branch of the Retail Merchants' Association instead of a new organization received little support.

The meeting approved by-law proposed by the committee providing for an eight-man executive, limiting membership to owners or operators of retail meat stores, and setting fees at $20 a year with a $10 admission fee.

Meanwhile at Vancouver, the British Columbia division of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, Inc., in a statement tonight said meat dealers in this province "almost unanimously have stated that

Registration of Voters Is Heavy

Registration of voters for the Provincial election concluded last night. Election commissioners worked to a late hour at many centres to accommodate late comers and to make sure all available names were listed.

Lists will now be printed and organization for taking the vote next month will be completed. Registration in Greater Victoria was heavy, officials said last night.

British Churches and Trade Unions Marked by Gestapo

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (AP).—British churches and trade unions were regarded by the Gestapo as fountains of resistance in 1940 when the Germans hoped to invade England and many religious and labor leaders were marked for arrest.

Freemasons, Jews and Czech emigrants were others from whom the Gestapo suspected resistance. A handbook published for the Reich security policy and recovered by Allied officers from the former Gestapo headquarters disclosed today.

The Archbishop of Canterbury and Cardinal Hinsley, Catholic Archbishop of Westminster, were listed among the foremost "haters of Germany," and the handbook said the Methodist Church "supports the idea of a world council of Christian churches"—anathema to the Nazis.

Prime Minister Atlee, then only a Labor member of Parliament, and other Labor party and trade union leaders were described as "indefatigable anti-Nazis." The Communist party was dismissed as inconsequential although many members were on the arrest list.

Delegation to Meet Cabinet

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP).—Mayor J. W. Cornett, of Vancouver, will accompany the representative delegation, headed by the all-union reversion committee, that will interview Premier Hart and members of the Provincial Cabinet tomorrow.

Representatives of labor, the Ministerial Association and Junior Board of Trade with the mayor will leave for Victoria tonight. John Turner, committee spokesman, said today.

The delegation will present a six-point program aimed at combating unemployment problems.

Parish of Death

PARIS, Sept. 17 (CP).—Jean Hewed-Paquis, French radio commentator who broadcast for the Nazis during the occupation of France, tonight was sentenced to death by a court here on a charge of treason.

When he first appeared, red haired and defiant, he said: "I renounce nothing."

Charge Japanese Violating Terms

HUNGKING, Sept. 17 (AP).—The Chinese Central News Agency charged tonight that Japanese forces have violated surrender terms in a number of instances since September 2.

The news agency cited alleged violations in various parts of China, including destruction of arms, ammunition, railroad equipment and bridges. It said there were several cases of looting north of Changsha.

B.C. Peaches Better Than Ontario, Says West Member

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP).—George Cruickshank, perennial Commons entertainer from Fraser Valley in British Columbia, had the House rocking with laughter today as he demonstrated the relative merits of Ontario and British Columbia peaches. He followed this up by threatening, jokingly, to make Ontario members eat the hard, green exhibits from their orchards.

The fiery Liberal member introduced the subject of peaches during the Throne Speech debate when he was congratulating Speaker Gaspar Fautoux for sending his son to British Columbia to receive his education.

Now he knew why the Speaker had taken such a step, he said; why he has passed through Ontario.

tee from the Government that if the United States discontinues rationing of meat October 1 that Canada will immediately do likewise.

Meat dealers in the Springhill, Oxford, Parrsboro and Collingwood districts of Nova Scotia at a meeting at Springhill tonight decided to halt the sale of meat next Saturday, September 22, unless changes are made in the present meat rationing system.

At Ottawa George Hougham, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, said last night he expected about 25 or 30 representatives of the meat trade from coast to coast would come to Ottawa for Wednesday's meeting with Prices Board officials regarding meat rationing and it was hoped the dealers would have specific recommendations to make.

At the same time the association secretary disclosed he had recommended to Prices Board officials that the Wednesday meeting be attended by concerned members of the Cabinet, particularly Finance Minister Fliley and Agriculture Minister Gardiner. "The matter is of sufficient national importance to warrant Cabinet representation," he said.

At a meeting of between 400 and 500 butchers, small-scale meat packers and housewives at Harbour College at Toronto last night Dan Rouse, principal speaker, called for "drastic action" if no favorable action is promised by the Government to retailers' recommendations regarding meat rationing at Wednesday's meeting.

The meeting drafted telegrams condemning the rationing system to be sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Finance Minister Fliley and Donald Gordon, chairman of the Prices Board.

Mother Dies After Hearing Son Safe; Prisoner of War

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17 (CP).—Word received in a letter that Pte. William Lawrence Irwin, of the Winnipeg Grenadiers, was alive and well, after reports of his death in March, came to his mother just a few minutes before she died last Wednesday. It was learned today.

On hearing the news when she became conscious for a few minutes, Mrs. Irwin murmured: "Thank God, now I can die in peace."

A telegram was received by the family in March saying that Bill had died August 12, 1944. A memorial service was held here and his mother received the Silver Cross.

But in April 29 letters were received from people who thought he was still alive after hearing a Japanese broadcast. "We still couldn't be too sure Bill was really alive because we didn't know the date of the broadcast," his sister said. "It could have been given before he died."

After a letter from Pte. Irwin was brought to the family in August, they asked Ottawa to check up on it and Saturday the answer came, saying: "Pleased to inform you Pte. Irwin, previously reported to have died, is now officially listed as a prisoner of war."

Attempts to Label Joyce An American

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP).—William Joyce, the suave-voiced Nazi radio announcer known as "Lord Haw Haw," came to trial for high treason today, and sought to prove American citizenship to escape the stern penalties of British law.

Counsel for the 39-year-old defendant said he hoped to show that Joyce's father, Michael, was a naturalized American citizen who took the oath of allegiance October 25, 1904, in Hudson County, New Jersey, and that the defendant himself was born in Brooklyn April 24, 1906.

The Crown, however, argued that his American birth, even if proved, would make no difference, since he owed no allegiance to our lord the King because he claimed, at times past, the privileges and protection of British citizenship.

Complicated legal arguments about Joyce's nationality—the Crown accused him also of "purporting to become a naturalized subject of Germany" during the war—filled the first day of the proceedings in the Old Bailey.

After the Crown, headed by Attorney-General Sir Hartley Shawcross, completed its case, Defence Counsel G. O. Slade argued there was no case to go to the jury of ten men and two women because "William Joyce was born and always has remained a subject of the United States."

Mr. Justice Tucker, presiding, quashed this, however, ruling.

"There is some evidence which, if uncontradicted, would entitle the jury to come to the conclusion that this man is a British subject," Joyce, clad in a navy blue suit, white shirt and blue tie, and determined face, bowed low to the impressive presiding judge when he entered the courtroom, and then listened quietly as the prosecution, needing only half the day, presented its case.

INTERMENT AT GANGES

Funeral services for the late Lt.-Col. Basil George Wolfe-Merton, M.C., V.D., who passed away on September 12 at the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital, were held last Friday at St. George's Church, Ganges, with Ven. G. H. Holmes officiating.

Interment took place at the Anglican Church Cemetery. Pallbearers were Capt. V. C. Best, A. J. Eaton, H. Martyn Jenkins, Colin O. Moust, E. E. Sykes and N. W. Wilson.

Doctor Loses Hand

VANDERHOOF, B.C., Sept. 17 (CP).—Dr. W. F. Schultz, Hulatt veterinarian, had his right hand blasted off by a 16-gauge shotgun in a hunting accident near here Sunday.

Dr. Schultz said he reached back to caulk a 16-year-old companion when the gun went off. He traveled 65 miles for treatment in Prince George hospital. Amputation at the forearm was necessary.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17 (CP).—Ulysses Lauson and his 20-year-old wife, Eileen, arrived from Quebec tonight with $4,000 in their possession—in $100 and $50 bills. With Walter Koresky, of Windsor, Ont., with whom they were arrested last week at Charlottetown, the Lausons were escorted here by Provincial Police.

Legless Veteran To Marry Army Nurse He Saved

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP).—Cliff Wills, 22, of Niagara Falls, Ont., a legless veteran of the war, just ended, and Army Nursing Sister Hazel Wall, whose life he saved in a near-drowning tragedy in the Wabigoon River near Dryden last Summer, will be married at Niagara Falls on October 17. Wills is a patient at Christie Street Military Hospital, here where Nurse Wall has been his "favorite nurse" since his admittance last Spring, on return from action in Holland where he lost both legs after stepping on a land mine.

In the spectacular rescue in Northwestern Ontario some weeks ago Wills saved both Nurse Wall and her close friend, Mrs. Iris Brown, Toronto, while all three were vacationing. Mrs. Brown expects to act as bridesmaid at the wedding.

Wills, who expects to get his discharge in a few weeks, is getting accustomed to his new artificial limbs. His bride-to-be will go to Manitoba in a couple of weeks to get her discharge too.

To Seek Help in Obtaining Grant

Following refusal by the Federal Government of a plea for financial aid to Esquimalt, Reeve Thomas Hadfield told the council last night that he would circulate every Federal member in British Columbia soliciting support in the fight for what he claimed was "only justice."

"This is not good enough for us," he said, commenting on a letter received from Hon. J. L. Fliley, Minister of Finance, refusing to consider the municipality's request for a grant of $250,000 in place of taxes on military property.

Councillor J. A. Ellis asserted that Mr. Fliley's reply was "an insult to our taxpayers." He said Esquimalt was not asking for taxes, but only for justice.

The council appointed Reeve Hadfield as the municipality's delegate to meet other municipal representatives and B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, to discuss appointment of a commission to study amalgamation of Greater Victoria.

In answer to a questionnaire from the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, the council voted support of Dominion-wide daylight saving time during the Summer months.

Endorsement was given a resolution forwarded by the City Council asking improved letter-carrier ser-

To Examine Students

Plans to give all students of Oak Bay schools a thorough physical examination were outlined by Dr. G. C. Kenning, school medical officer, during a meeting of the Oak Bay School Board last night.

Ears, eyes, height and weight will be checked, with emphasis placed on pre-school and primary class pupils.

Dr. Kenning asked that the board try to secure certain types of Civil Defence equipment which could be used in his work. He mentioned sterilizers, flashlights and screens.

He also suggested that the school nurse, Mrs. B. MacKinnon, be provided with an automobile to make possible calls to homes of students. Upon being informed that automobiles were difficult to secure, he wondered if a municipal car could be used. Trustee Colin Martin, chairman, said the board would investigate the matter.

A report of Trustee R. S. Yates showed that a number of primary grade students of Willows School had been transferred to Monterey School due to overcrowded conditions.

Declare Dominion Should Begin Selective Immigration

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP)—Canada should start on a program of selective immigration at an early date, Major Leslie Mutch, Liberal member for Winnipeg South, said today in the Commons.

A veteran of the two wars, Major Mutch said such a program need not and should not be delayed pending the establishment of high employment in Canada. There was a shortage of labor in Canada in the unskilled and highly-skilled classes. Bringing in people from these classes would help provide jobs for people here.

Major Mutch was one of several private members who took part in the Throne Speech today. Others were R. R. Knight (C.P.P., Saskatoon), G. R. Boucher (P.C., Carleton Place), George Cruikshank (P.C., Hastings-Peterborough), and Mr. Knight said he wanted more use made of the Hudson Bay Railway and the port of Churchill and suspected there was a "negro in the woodpile" holding up development.

Mr. Mutch said Canada now was faced with the opportunity of doubling her population within the next 25 years. He was convinced it was not possible to maintain a high standard of living under the conditions of settlement in Canada as they existed today.

Immigration could not be divorced from expanding export trade and if this was done the Government's goal of high employment and a decent standard of living likely would not be achieved. He had said in 1937 that with 10,000,000 people Canadians could not hope to hold half a continent forever. He believed this still was true.

Examples of skilled labor shortages could be found in composing rooms of printing shops and in the cabinet-making trade. In both these trades there were men young enough to learn the trade.

If the Dominion was to play her part in world affairs tomorrow would not be too soon to start thinking about the development of the country.

High employment and a high standard of living would not be possible until there was a better balance between the home and foreign markets.

Transportation now was not a problem such as it was in former years when the problem of immigration had to be considered. Canada now had rail and air lines that could get people to the areas where development was possible.

The son of a Scottish immigrant himself, he said he would like to see Canada have her own flag and her own national anthem. These two things would serve to draw the people closer in a spirit of patriotism.

He said he wished to associate himself with members who had protested against racial discrimination in Canada.

Mr. Cruikshank said British Columbia was proud of its Victoria Cross winners. Five out of the 12 Canadians winning the decoration in this war had come from that province.

Local Violinist To Give Concert

Mervin Cummings, Victoria violinist, will present three selections for the piano and two for violin which he has composed, at the drawing-room recital which will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Walter C. Nichol, 914 St. Charles Street.

A graduate of Victoria High School, Mervin Cummings was born in Saskatchewan, and lived for a time in Vernon, where he won the open violin championship at the musical festival. He enlisted in the army on his 19th birthday, and was later honorably discharged. The young violinist has been studying in the role of concert recitalist, composer and pianist.

Mervin Cummings will be presented by the I.O.D.E. educational secretaries of all primary chapters; and Mrs. F. P. Beckett, educational secretary of Municipal Chapter, will introduce the young musician, who is a bursary holder. Mr. Cummings is a pupil of Miss Selma Reyes, who will give a concert in Carnegie Hall this fall.

Charged With Bullying Japs

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP)—Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, supreme commander of the Southeast Asia Command, has ordered disciplinary action taken against an Allied officer accused of bullying Japanese prisoners of war in Singapore, the War Office said tonight.

Admiral Mountbatten, the War Office said, issued a special communique after receiving reports that Japanese commanders in Singapore, awaiting trial for war criminals, had been forced publicly to touch their foreheads to the ground.

"By bullying them in a childish way we shall, ourselves, only be descending to the level of those very elements among the Japanese which we have fought a war to eliminate," the commander said.

Appoint Officers

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP)—Dr. A. H. Menzies, of Nanaimo, was elected president of the British Columbia Medical Association at the annual convention which closed here during the week-end. He succeeds Dr. G. O. Matthews, Vancouver.

Born at Comox, Gnr. David George Havard was educated at Oak Bay schools. His award, announced last week, came after Gnr. Havard had remained at his wireless set at an artillery observation post for many sleepless hours under heavy shell and mortar fire.

Mr. Havard, Sr., who served for four and a quarter years in the last war, joined up again in 1939, but after one month of service, the City Council arranged for his release as he was needed again as manager of the Aged Men's Home, which post he has held for 18 years. In the last war he held the rank of G.S.M.

Bishop Urges Liquor Reform

Advancing introduction of a new liquor act, or wholesale revision of the present act, Bishop H. E. Sexton continued his campaign for reform of liquor regulations with a radio address on Sunday.

"If people are going to drink, then let there be facilities for doing it more decently," he said. "The present liquor act needs to be carefully revised in the public interest, and I would urge the Government to make it possible for alcoholic liquor to be served with meals on duly licensed premises."

He pointed out that today countless numbers do their drinking in hotel rooms, and automobiles, and that much trouble would be avoided if alcoholic refreshment was available in moderate quantities at supper dances, as well as with meals in public places.

"Would my Puritan friends maintain that Winston Churchill's magnificent public services have been impaired as a result of a little alcoholic refreshment?" he suggested. "And one could mention many other great men, public benefactors, who share Mr. Churchill's tastes, and remain great and honorable and Christian. On the other hand, while many great Christians are teetotalers, perhaps the best known total abstainer in our time was Adolf Hitler, who was certainly no paragon of virtue."

"I do not want to be regarded as the friend of liquor interests any more than those who differ from me are to be criticized as being supporters of bootleggers," he declared.

Community Chest

The Community Chest of Victoria opened its annual drive yesterday, with $83,000 in approved budgets of its co-operating charities sought by public subscription. There should be little difficulty in securing that amount, if the public will do what it has done before. As has been said, it requires little reflection to see that these services must be carried on, and that in the postwar period some of them will face special stresses and strains.

The leading organizations participating in the work of the Community Chest, with their annual budgets appended, are as follows: Children's Aid, $15,524; Y.M.C.A., $12,389; Y.W.C.A., $9,100; Family Welfare Association, $9,168; Victorian Order of Nurses, $6,500; Boy Scouts, $3,263; Canadian National Institute of the Blind, $2,800; St. John Ambulance Association, $2,000; Columbia Coast Mission, $1,500; and others, including the John Howard Society and district Friendly Help Associations.

To the list of some twenty charities directly dependent upon the Community Chest has now been added the work of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, asking for $2,100 this year. As most people know, this is the central group endeavoring to assist in the satisfactory return to civilian life of the men who are coming back from the war. The money, presumably, is for unavoidable expense in connection with the work, to which many prominent in community business and other circles are devoting much thought and time on a voluntary basis.

But no matter where one looks, these are the types of community effort which must be supported and carried on. The Community Chest is the sensible means of so doing. It is infinitely superior to itinerant tag days, and has the added feature that the budgets concerned are matched and dovetailed, so that there will be no needless overlapping. The $83,000 sought is really a first charge on the Greater Victoria community. It should be honored in the same spirit with which these numerous services are performed.

Registrations

The Provincial Voters' List closed yesterday, with special election commissioners going around the hospitals to register those there who were bedridden. Here and there, the sick at their homes may have been missed, but apart from that it does not appear likely that many British Columbia electors will be disfranchised where they have shown an interest in retaining the privilege of the vote. In the time at the disposal of the electoral officials a house to house canvass would not have been feasible, even if there had been the men and women to make such a canvass.

As matters stand, all British Columbia electors who voted at the last provincial election will be on the current list, together with those who registered afresh this time. Polling day will follow on October 25. In British Columbia there is an absentee ballot for those who may be out of their provincial ridings on polling day, but still within the confines of the Province. Such absentees will be able to vote at any British Columbia polling division on that day, for candidates in their home riding. There is no advance poll, however, such as obtains in federal elections.

In opening registration offices in each area, the Province has done its main duty to the electors. It was surely not asking too much of the electors to do the rest. Where people are fit and well, they had equal opportunity of checking on their registrations. Where they were ill, the nearest election commissioner—and there are scores of them—had every authority needed to register them. The difficulty on polling day may come from neither source, but from those in the services who are moving or who otherwise could not take advantage of this machinery. Provincial electoral officials were alert to that, and were trying to do what they could to close any gaps.

Bombing a Battleship

George Bernard Shaw, whose introduction to "The Apple Cart," dealt vigorously with "Breakages Limited," will probably have a field day with the suggestion that a leftover atomic bomb may be dropped on a leftover Japanese battleship—just to see if it will sink. No one knows the cost of the atomic bomb, but if experimentation is added, it must be high. The cost of a modern capital ship can be $45,000,000 and up. Also, there is a good deal of salvage to a capital ship when, with her armor plate and naval rifles, she is dismantled. "Breakages Limited" should be pleased.

The general public, however, are not altogether likely to see it so. If there is a leftover atomic bomb should that not be kept for the Security Council and the Military Staff Committee of the United Nations? Its preservation as a weapon in defence of peace would be vastly more effective than its loss in the manner proposed. Is the world after bigger and better battleships, or a means of avoiding their use in anger on any future occasion?

One does not doubt at all that the atomic bomb could make a decided impression on the surrendered Japanese battleship, and that the Japanese, perhaps, would be the first to feel the loss. At the same time, such a demonstration would be quite as alarming to the free people of the world as it might be to the disarmed enemy. It would imply that some one was seeking not only bigger and better battleships, but also bigger and better atomic bombs.

Some physicists believe that there is a limit to that, in so far as the atomic bomb is concerned, while economists will ponder over the loss of man-hours in the destroyed steel of the "target." Mr. Shaw may write an epilogue to his piece. And perhaps he should.

B.C. Weeklies

The Vancouver Daily Province pays a merited tribute to the weekly newspapers of British Columbia, many of which did so well in the nation-wide competition for the annual awards open to weeklies in their own field. As The Province said editorially in its issue of September 14, the country newspaper fills a special mission and has a material influence on the fortunes and progress of the community it serves. Said our contemporary, in part:

Though they make up only about 10 per cent of the weekly press of Canada, the British Columbia papers invariably rank high in the competition. This year The Vernon News won the Mason trophy for the best all-round paper with a circulation of two thousand or more, with The Penticton Herald, a previous winner, coming third. The Charles Clark Cup for Class II was won by The Powell River Town Crier which edged out The Powell River News by one point. The Comox District Free Press won the Malcolm MacBeath Shield for the best editorial page in Class II, while The Fraser Valley Record of Mission City had the best front page in Class III.

In addition to these major awards, 14 other places of honor were gained, either second or third or ties for those positions. Ten widely-separated towns in British Columbia shared in the honors, showing that the excellence of the country press is not concentrated in one region. Vernon, Penticton, Powell River, Comox, Mission City, Chilliwack, Matsqui, Grand Forks, Creston and Agassiz all gained places among the first three in the various classes.

The country weeklies are powerful organs of public life. Most of them are non-political as they are usually the sole medium of expression in their community. The British Columbia papers have proved they are progressive, well-informed and well put up and the honors they have earned in the national competition should be a source of pride to the province.

Seen in Passing

It is an observable fact that Coalition came into being in British Columbia as a war need. In it, Conservatives and Liberals already in the Legislature got together, and their respective parties endorsed that. Thus it happens that a Conservative or a Progressive Conservative sits for one riding and a Liberal for another, but both are Coalitionists. Any serious attempt now to change the number of members either party has in the Coalition block in the Legislature could only result in a disruption of that coalition. And disruption is not a winning formula in an election, but a losing one. For the greater good, party resurgents in Saanich should back down before they cost the Coalition a seat.

There will always be two kinds of money in the world: that which is earned, and that which is not. With the former, and it is the only money the taxpayer has to deal with, few miracles are possible. With the latter undoubtedly great miracles may be performed, but none more so than in the promises of those in public office who would feed the taxpayer out of his own purse. Unfortunately, such promises seldom come true. A nation cannot lift itself by its bootstraps.

From "The White Man's Burden"

Take up the White Man's burden—
Send forth the best ye breed—
Go bind ye sons to exile
To service captive's need;
To wait in heavy harness,
On fluttered folk and wild—
Your new-caught, sullen peoples,
Half-devil and half-child.

Take up The White Man's burden—
In patience to abide,
To veil the threat of terror
And check the show of pride,
By open speech and simple,
An hundred times made plain,
To seek another's profit,
And work another's gain. . . .

Take up The White Man's burden—
Ye dare not stoop to less—
Nor call too loud on Freedom
To cloak your weariness;
By all ye cry or whisper,
By all ye leave or do,
The silent, sullen peoples
Shall weigh your Gods and you.

Take up The White Man's burden—
Have done with childish days—
The lightly proffered laurel,
The easy, ungrudged praise.
Come now, to search your manhood
Through all the thankless years,
Cold, edged with dear-bought wisdom,
The judgment of your peers!

Butterfly me deceive you; integrity never will.—OLIVER CROMWELL.

Free Port Zones

Frank M. Kelley

The southern end of Vancouver Island, because of its proximity to major North Pacific ship lanes, would be the ideal location in the years ahead for a free port zone, provided trade goods continue to move without too many hard and fast restrictions, even as they moved in the past.

Passing a resolution to the effect that the Victoria area be granted free port status by the Dominion Government would be a step in the right direction.

What was ten years ago may not rule in the world of the future. Establishment of a free port zone in the days ahead will depend largely on how many of the Bretton Woods plans pertaining to the regulation of international trade become operative, for if adopted in their entirety and put in force they will have far-reaching effects on the internal economy, maybe for the best, of all countries; going so far as to limit the amount of goods which may be imported or exported from this and that country.

When the free port idea was first broached here some years ago, the intent was to revert to the free entry of goods, mainly for home consumption, under the system prevailing in colonial days. Proponents of the plan believed that tariff-free merchandise of all sorts, contributing to cheap costs of living, would attract a considerable number of permanent residents, as well as some transients, desirable and otherwise. Its advocates were not much concerned about the average overall standard of living which might prevail under some circumstances. Cheap living could mean cheap labor, not very good economy in the long run.

FREE PORT ADVANTAGES

Later when the free port idea began to take sensible form and envisaged the entry of raw materials, free of duties, and their manufacture, processing and packing within a bonded zone, the goods to pay tariffs when ready for distribution, even to domestic consumers, the idea would have undoubtedly meant great development for this section of Vancouver Island had such an area been created by Government.

Overtures for establishing a free trade port where raw materials could be processed, made by well-meaning individuals, did not have the necessary support at the time. There were other communities desiring the same kind of thing adjacent to or nearby their respective waterfronts, with the results their desires were voiced in opposition to Victoria's plea and their own advantages stressed.

For the longest time free ports have functioned in various parts of the world. There have been a number in Europe and some in Asia. Singapore was a fair example of the latter, although it did not follow the modern interpretation of a free port's function—manufacturing raw materials into articles of commerce, such as a free port here would contemplate, was never a major consideration.

Known as "The Crossroads of the East," up until the time of surrender to the Japanese in February, 1942, there were no port, harbor, dock, town or light dues charged. Customs duties for excise were levied only on opium, alcoholic liquors, tobacco and petroleum. The bulk of Singapore's trade, and was large, was foreign distribution, imports from Europe, America, India and the Far East, and the collection of general tropical produce from adjacent Asiatic sources and their shipment to world markets.

A free port area was established at New York shortly before the war started in Europe. It is on a limited scale, in that it was confined until recently anyway, dealing with merchandise mainly adapted to speedy processing and repackaging. There were no charges levied against the goods as they enter the area, but as shipped out they pay regular levies, whether for consumption in New York or elsewhere.

OTHER ZONES CONTEMPLATED

At the time this zone was established on the east coast the United States Government announced that several more free trade areas would be established in the United States. Another one on the Atlantic coast, one on the Gulf of Mexico and another one or two on the Pacific Coast, California and Washington, may have to be used again to prevent a mass return of the Nipponese. Many under the guise of fishermen were naval reserve officers who charted the Pacific Coast. Others sent their sons back to Japan to serve in the navy, army and air force. Treatment of white prisoners by the Japanese shows what kind of people they are. Daily newspapers in the United States used 222,911 tons of newspaper last month, an increase of 112 per cent over the amount utilized in August, 1944. Seattle is to be linked to Europe,

However, if it is going to be possible under modified arrangements to develop free trade zones and Victoria should be granted such status, it should be remembered its success as such would depend, first, last and all the time, upon a harbor that would give ships proper protection and be equipped with modern facilities for the handling of cargoes—all of which Victoria should possess anyway, free port or no free port, and is entitled to because of its situation at the crossroads of the North Pacific.

"SO YOU THINK THE ATOMIC BOMB IS TOO CRUEL?"

British Designers Lead on Gas Turbine Planes

By E. C. SHEPHERD
North American Newspaper Alliance
LONDON, Sept. 17 (By Cable).—In revealing many of the secrets of German aircraft, Britain's Air Ministry is both admitting the German earlier lead in jet and rocket-propelled aircraft, and hinting that British postwar development begins where Germany left off. That can be said to be true of rocket-driven aircraft, but in jet-driven aircraft Britain was gradually overhauling Germany when the war ended.

This does not mean Britain was applying the gas turbine with the same freedom and on the same grand scale as Germany. Britain was not content to hurry the imperfect gas turbine into service and accept a short working life as a fair price for high performance. The Germans had to use such methods as were still available when the Allied sea and air blockades had done their worst. Royal Air Force observers in Germany towards the end of the fighting were of the opinion that the German jet engines or gas turbines had an average working life of little more than 24 hours.

No British gas turbine went into service until it had much better prospects than that. E. W. Hives, chief of the Rolls Royce design and production team, recently assured me that the life of British jet units was many times better than that of the Germans.

A popular estimate sets the life at about 300 hours. No authority will commit himself to that estimate, largely because development is still so fast that no engine runs 300 hours without a modification or improvement involving the replacement of a working unit.

The German method was not to wait for either high reliability or high power, but to build aircraft around turbines immediately they were fit to deliver the new form of thrust, despite their being strictly limited period of service. Since gas turbine is quickly and easily replaced, this may have been the right policy in wartime. It certainly gave Germany results even in her extremity. A curious outcome was that Germany finished the war with the world's fastest heavy bomber.

This was a jet-driven bomber which could take a total bomb load of 10,000 pounds. Its development illustrates the German policy of expediting the application of the gas turbine. This bomber, with a span of 66 feet and weighing 47,500 pounds all up, was fitted in the first place with six moderately-powered jets. It was about to be fitted instead with two jets capable of a thrust equalling 8,000 horsepower each. In either form its top speed was about 550 miles an hour. If the bomb load was limited to 7,000 pounds, this Ju 288 bomber had a range of 1,175 miles. It could thus have raided England from Germany.

The six turbines were originally of 2,500 horsepower each. The most powerful German jet of that period gave an output of 3,000 horsepower. The next type more than doubled that power. This swift progression permits an understanding of the development of British jets.

If the Germans, severely limited in high-grade metals, could do that, the British can be supposed to have made equal strides and added better consumption rates and a better power weight ratio.

What happened with British jet development was that it was nearly smothered by secrecy. Britain was so afraid of leakages after having sent the first Whittle engines to America in 1942, that aircraft designers had only the haziest notions of what was likely to come from the engineers. Consequently engines

Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of Welfare, is reported to have said in the House of Commons last week: "Canadians have less to worry about a housing crisis and other peacetime transition problems than any other people in the world." Somebody should tell Mr. Claxton about the housing situation in Victoria and Vancouver. . . . Public indignation meetings and strenuous protests from many organizations were required before Ottawa moved Japanese from defence areas of the British Columbia coast. The same methods may have to be used again to prevent a mass return of the Nipponese. Many under the guise of fishermen were naval reserve officers who charted the Pacific Coast. Others sent their sons back to Japan to serve in the navy, army and air force. Treatment of white prisoners by the Japanese shows what kind of people they are. Daily newspapers in the United States used 222,911 tons of newspaper last month, an increase of 112 per cent over the amount utilized in August, 1944. Seattle is to be linked to Europe,

Blames Government For Meat Shortage

EDMONTON, Sept. 17 (CP).—The Alberta Farmers' Union said in a statement issued here today "the threatened meat shortage, which has brought about the necessity of rationing, is a direct result of the short-sighted policy of the Federal Government towards hog production."

The Government "seems to live in constant fear of having too much of everything and they are working towards the position where there will not be enough of anything," it said. "A bold policy for increased production of both beef and pork is needed and if the Government will do its part by guaranteeing a remunerative price, the farmer can be depended on to guarantee there will be no need for meat rationing," the statement said.

CHLORINATION

Sir,—In my last letter the omission of "than" altered my meaning, which was that we could buy better ozone equipment more cheaply in Great Britain than in America. I also stated that our water is outside the "danger zone." The test, as laid down by Canadian order in council of July 27, 1940, is that such water should be "free from pathogenic bacteria and from organisms of the colon group in excess of one per 100 cubic centimetres of the water as determined by the presumptive test for bacteriological examination of water using Phelps method of calculation." Only a few bacteria are pathogenic. Those of the colon group are not pathogenic (disease causing), but zymogenic (causing fermentation), and therefore harmless if not in excess of the above-named quantity.

Every analysis of our water taken fortnightly since the date of chlorination shows that in untreated state such water was well within the above high standard of safe potable water.

No "expert" denies this, or can prove the contrary. Thus chlorination has resulted in the utter folly of destroying the salts in our water necessary for our health, and its flavor, and of depositing there in an irritant poison deleterious to human life. This is a very serious matter. Exhaustive experiments have proved that irritant poisons induce cancers alike in plant and animal life, and statistics prove a serious increase in the occurrence of this disease since chlorination became common in the United States, and this is only one of the many ills that it leads to. To suggest that it should be continued as a protective measure is simply preposterous. With analyses of our water taken fortnightly it could not get anywhere near the danger zone without detection.

I find that the leading water bacteriologist in British Columbia asserts that there is no necessity whatever for its chlorination. A recent poll in Vancouver indicated that 78 per cent of the citizens of Vancouver were opposed to its continuation, and the mayor and aldermen are unanimously against its continuance.

West Vancouver has never chlorinated its water. Our water is better than Vancouver's, and by general consent the best in Canada. To chlorinate it is outrageous.

CHLORINATION

Sir,—The evidence against chlorination is cumulative and when examined from the expert position, it is conclusive.

The first position is that our water was never questioned before chlorination. Dr. Amyot admits there was never any disease resulting from our water, supply prior to chlorination. The Minister of Health in a letter stated the reason for suggested chlorination was as a war measure, and to conform with United States shipping regulations. It is also agreed that it was for the duration of the war only, and was to be discontinued after the war.

The only point which now arises is that Dr. Amyot recommends that chlorination be continued, not because our water is below the standard required, but in order to conform completely faster on this community and country standard health regulations, which are not conformed in by many leading physicians. The Anti-Chlorination League urged that it is safer to entrust its water and health regulations to its own local authorities.

Some of our correspondents argue that the people do not know anything about the methods used to determine the quality or safety of our water, and ought to be willing to accept the advice of experts. The answer to that is that the "experts" have not produced their credentials. The written report to the council by the medical health officer prior to chlorination is conclusive. One does not need to be an expert to understand the English language. It is reasonable to suppose that if our water had not been up to standard requirements that this fact would have been reported by the medical health officer to the council, and, in turn, Dr. Amyot, Provincial Health Officer, would have reported it in Ottawa. The evidence on file, which I have called "cumulative," is the fact that Dr. Amyot's department made no reports on our water to the Department of National Health for five years prior to chlorination. Laymen, who can weigh evidence, and do not doubt their own senses, are entitled to assume that in the absence of positive reports to the contrary, that our water is as pure and wholesome as Dominion Government experts have declared it to be, "crystal pure."

Finally, an examination of the water today, unchlorinated, or before being chlorinated, discloses it to be still "crystal pure," and considerably higher than the standard required for safety. If the experts want to say more than this, let them arrange a meeting and submit themselves and their reports to cross-examination.

were fit for use before aircraft were designed for them. Britain had no jet bomber and only two jet fighters when the European War ended. However, her jet engines were superior in every way to anything in Germany.

Germany has saved Britain the experiments which would otherwise have had to precede the design of certain jet-driven aircraft.

Rocket propulsion is a different story. This was short-duration work mainly devoted to fighters for interception of bombers at great heights. In this chemical engineering, the Germans were far ahead of the United Nations. The little Messerschmitt 163 rocket fighter, in service for the last six months of the European War, shows what could be done with the help of rocket propulsion in interception.

This machine took just over two and a half minutes to climb to 30,000 feet. Improved by the Junkers Co. and rechristened the Ju-283, this fighter could climb to 49,000 feet in three minutes. There was something still more startling on the way—a rocket fighter driven up vertically at an initial rate of 35,000 feet a minute. This plane, called "Natter," was intended to get in among the Fortresses with rocket projectiles, after which the pilot was to descend in a parachute.

This wasteful warfare did not appeal to the British, who have a preference for something solid and enduring. Nobody supposes that rocket propulsion can be neglected after the German achievements. Nobody imagines the British are neglecting it. In essence, the jet and rocket reactions are the same. Much of Britain's work on gas turbines can be adapted for rocket units, and Britain has acquired mass of information since Germany surrendered.

Asks Commission to Probe Destruction of War Surplus

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP)—F. D. Shaw (B.C., Red Deer) tonight asked in the Commons that a Royal Commission be established to investigate the destruction of surplus war material in Canada.

Mr. Shaw said he was not satisfied with the explanation of why certain equipment was destroyed.

He asked that the destruction of war materials be halted. There was no rush for the destruction.

He asked if it was true that R.C.A.F. contracts contained a clause which said that all surplus equipment had to be destroyed and not allowed to flood the market.

He asked if all surplus equipment was inspected by War Assets Corporation officials and if an inventory was kept of all destroyed material.

He wanted to know what claim educational institutions had on material scheduled to be destroyed.

He said that the people of Western Canada were not at all satisfied with explanations of why war materials

RA.F. Flyers Share in Japanese Swords

Mr. Shaw said he had asked that an investigation be made into the destruction of valuable equipment at Penhold, Alta. A similar request was made about the same time by Arthur Roe, Social Credit member of the Alberta Legislature for Banff-Cochrane.

Air Minister Gibson's reply, in so many words, was that the charge was "pure nonsense."

Later, after Air Commodore S. G. Tackaberry, an officer on the special duties in Ottawa, had visited Penhold, Colonel Gibson had said some equipment was destroyed at Penhold.

However, the value was less than what it would have cost to take the equipment out of the obsolete planes.

Mr. Shaw said the people of Canada were not at all satisfied that the R.C.A.F. should be investigated by the R.C.A.F.

Mr. Shaw asked the following questions:

1. Whether or not all air force contracts with manufacturers contain the clause that this equipment be destroyed and not allowed to flood the markets.

2. Are all so-called surplus goods, or goods without commercial value or obsolete goods, inspected by a representative of War Assets Corporation? If not, what is the exact procedure in all cases of disposal?

3. What claim have educational institutions to materials declared surplus, obsolete or without commercial value? What procedure is carried out with respect to such institutions acquiring these materials?

4. Since, as was demonstrated at Penfold, branches of the service are granted authority to dispose of Crown Assets, is a complete inventory of all surplus assets retained by War Assets Corporation? Do they also keep a complete inventory of the goods which have been destroyed?

Reconstruction Minister Howe said that as far as the equipment referred to was concerned, it was classed by the air force as class "E"—that is a material damaged to the point where it is not worth repairing.

He continued:

"This happened to be radio equipment, but it is not radio equipment that any civilian could find any use for because it is only good at altitudes. We have many times the amount of usable and valuable radio equipment of exactly the same type that could possibly be disposed of in this country."

"You could give it away," a member interjected.

"It is of no value as radio equipment but it has some value as scrap material and is saleable as such," said Mr. Howe. "It is not saleable in any other form. Therefore, by agreement between the air force and War Assets Corporation, after the material had been examined approval was given to remove every valuable part from the radio equipment, such as tubes and other parts worth saving, and render the balance into scrap thus making it saleable. That was done and we did salvage something out of material that would otherwise have been quite useless."

"The question was asked as to whether we had an agreement with manufacturers of radio equipment. We had no agreement of the kind. We have quite an amount of exactly the same material in usable form that we are offering for sale. If inquiries are referred to us I am sure we can satisfy them."

"The question was asked as to whether the material should not have been given to schools. We have an agreement with every school in Canada that material of that kind will be sent to the school on indefinite loan. We do not give material away but we are willing to lend it without charge to any educational institution that has a use for it. This applies to all types of equipment from airplane engines down to the smallest item."

"Did that apply to Penhold?" asked Mr. Shaw. "Did Mr. J. H. Ross, the liaison officer between the Department of Education and the War Assets Corporation examine the material at Penhold to see whether it had educational value?"

"As I have told my friend, I am not sure what Mr. Ross examined," replied Mr. Howe. "He covers the whole Dominion and keeps in touch with every educational institution in the Dominion."

"He is only in Alberta," said Mr. Shaw.

"This is a Dominion problem. It is not confined to Alberta," answered Mr. Howe. "I will say that if there was any material there that of educational value we can supply duplicate in much better condition and will be glad to do so. We will supply this to any educational institution that will apply. The disposal of war materials is a very difficult and complicated problem."

50,000 New Names On Vancouver List

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP)—At least 50,000 new names in Vancouver have been added to the Provincial Voters' list, George M. Phillips, Provincial registrar-general, estimated tonight following closure of the registration period.

"It's a rough guess," said Mr. Phillips, "but I expect that Vancouver's registration will be well over the 50,000 mark."

In the last Provincial election in 1941, registrations totalled 17,000. He reported a "big" soldier registration from camps in the Interior. They had been coming in quite freely, he said.

14,000 JOBS VACANT

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP)—Selective Service officials here today said that in British Columbia there are about 14,000 vacant jobs for some 4,000 unemployed, making a job ratio of about three jobs for every applicant.

Governor-General Arrives In England From Dominion

LIVERPOOL, England, Sept. 17 (CP)—The Empress of Scotland docked here today, bringing to Britain the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada, and Princess Alice on their first visit home in five years.

Also aboard the big grey CPR liner was Maj.-Gen. Georges P. Vanier, Canadian ambassador to France, returning to Paris after three weeks in the Dominion.

A group of 37 Canadian women of the St. John Ambulance Brigade arrived for service in the United Kingdom. Most of the several hundred passengers were wives and children returning after spending the war years in Canada.

A Royal Navy guard of honor, consisting of 100 men, lined the quayside for inspection by the Governor-General, who wore civilian clothes.

The Governor-General declined an interview but Gen. Vanier, in a brief talk with newspapermen referred to the "very satisfactory conversations" held in Ottawa recently by Gen. De Gaulle, head of the Provisional French Government, with Canadian officials. He spoke hopefully of proposals for heavy Franco-Canadian trade in the relatively near future.

Col. H. M. Bailey, of Yorkton, Sask., was at the dock to meet his daughter, Belle, one of the St. John Ambulance party from Victoria. Most of the girls came from British Columbia although most parts of Canada were represented.

Included in the group were Beatrice Hayes and Jean Walker, both of Vancouver.

Locate Jap Balloon

BURNS LAKE, Sept. 17 (CP)—Vic Fulton, of Vancouver; Bob Wragg, of Michel, and Frank McClary, of Ootso, were members of a prospecting party which located a Japanese balloon last week on the glacial field between the head of Tahsis River and the Enano Pass, which leads out to Kitimat Arm. They arrived here with samples of the material of which the balloon was composed.

The men said the balloon was made of a paper-like material as tough as buckskin and about 40 feet in diameter.

"This is a Dominion problem. It is not confined to Alberta," answered Mr. Howe. "I will say that if there was any material there that of educational value we can supply duplicate in much better condition and will be glad to do so. We will supply this to any educational institution that will apply. The disposal of war materials is a very difficult and complicated problem."

Arrest Two Youths

Two Victoria youths were arrested by Provincial Police at Nanaimo yesterday carrying an unregistered gun in a car alleged to have been stolen from Beacon Hill Park. Licence plates had been switched, police said.

One of the pair, 18 years old, was fined $10 and costs in Nanaimo police court for having a loaded rifle in a car and another $10 and costs for hunting without a hunting licence.

The second youth, 17, was held in jail last night for Victoria police charged with car theft, and three other juveniles were released. Two of them, Victoria girls aged 16 and 17, were returned to their homes in Victoria last night. All were in the same party and were believed to have gone up-island for a hunting trip.

Former Nazi Party Men in Berlin Commence Grim Task

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (CP)—Berlin's grave-diggers are doubly busy. They are digging up and reintering tens of thousands buried in hastily excavated, shallow graves during the last days of fighting for the city.

They are forehandedly digging new graves in anticipation of this winter's deaths.

Squads of former Nazi party men were engaged today in moving the stacked and decaying bodies of 850 "S.S. (Hitler Guards)—men—from pits in the garden of the Reich chancellery, beneath Adolf Hitler's office window.

These were among thousands of bodies—perhaps 100,000—buried in emergency graves in Greater Berlin's public parks, gardens and courtyards when the Allies first entered. Many of them were covered with only a few clods of earth, and posed an acute health problem. Most have now been transferred to cemeteries.

Other thousands of bodies—some estimated to be as high as 10,000—are yet to be recovered from the three-mile stretch of subway between the Spittelmarkt and Anhalter Stations, flooded by the S.S. when those sheltered there begged for surrender to the attacking Russians.

Two-Year Air Force Plan For Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP)—Organization of a volunteer interim force to serve for two years, presumably during which time size and nature of a permanent R.C.A.F. will be made known, was announced today.

Announcing the setting up of the interim force to serve to September 30, 1947, at present active service pay and allowances, Air Minister Gibson said, "Since all personnel in the interim air force are to receive special consideration for enlistment will be carefully scrutinized before being accepted."

The interim force will serve under similar terms as those applying to the occupation force of 10,000 air-men overseas. The occupation force, however, is made up mostly of air-men selected for that service.

The army had previously announced plans for an interim force of volunteers who would be chiefly concerned with the big demobilization program. Conditions of service are similar to those of the air force plan.

It was reliably learned the navy will announce plans for an interim force, serving under similar terms, later this week.

The interim air force will not necessarily take care of all air force manpower needs, and an accompanying statement said "continuing requirements, and in particular the demobilization of personnel and the disposal of equipment, will necessitate the retention of some personnel in addition to those joining the interim force."

It added that such personnel would be released immediately they were no longer needed.

Chest Campaign Under Way Here

More than 700 canvassers began their ten-day drive for funds for the Community Chest yesterday, taking the call for 20 member agencies supported by Chest funds into homes all over Greater Victoria. No audit for yesterday's returns was available late last night. George Riach, auditor, said that canvassers were working during the night in order to give the drive initial impetus.

"We have every faith that we will more than meet our $83,000 quota," said Frank Paulding, campaign director. "Citizens of Victoria know what the Chest stands for in the community. They have always given generously and wholeheartedly."

Women Drivers Ignore Girl Hitchhikers Going East

REGINA, Sept. 17 (CP).—Truck drivers are true knights of the road, but in a hitch-hiking tour which carried them from Toronto to Vancouver in nine days, only one woman gave them a lift, said two young Ontario girls who left here today on the homeward leg of their trip.

The two, Joyce Hill, 20, of Newmarket, and Margaret Smith, 19, of Brampton, left Eastern Canada met "everything from senators to sailors." Their conveyances ranged from limousines to farm wagons. Truck drivers were the best standby for "thumbs," though people all along the way were hospitable and helpful.

At Banff, Alta., the girls met Dr. A. E. Forsid, Federal Government biologist who was searching Cascade Mountain for a variety of fellow poppy. They helped him look for it, and their efforts were successful.

They hope to be home in a few days and preparing to resume their studies. Joyce will be specializing in languages at Toronto University; Margaret has journalistic ambitions.

TRY BUILDING UP YOUR CHILD THIS WAY
• Authorities say the difference between husky children and those who are poor eaters, underweight and nervous is often simply a matter of proper nourishment, especially an adequate supply of vitamins.
But vitamins alone are not enough. For authorities now agree that vitamins do not work alone. They work as a team with certain other food elements.
For this reason, thousands are switching to Ovaltine. Unlike mere "vitamin carriers," Ovaltine food beverage contains not only extra vitamins but nearly all the precious food elements needed for health and top vitality. These include Vitamins A, B₁ and D, the important minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron, high quality proteins and quick energy fuel-food—a combination of food elements authorities agree are needed for best results.

Madame Petain Remains Loyal
PARIS, Sept. 17 (CP)—Madame Petain, after four years as First Lady of France, nine months of exile in Germany, and three months in French custody for questioning, now is living obscurely in Paris, momentarily preoccupied with how to get warm clothing for her aged husband in a fortress cell in the Pyrenees.

Her main work, friends say, is whether she can make practical arrangements for seeing the deposed marshal as often as possible. Under regular prison rules, the former Vichy Chief of State, held in Portalet since commutation of his death sentence for intelligence with the enemy, is allowed visitors only 30 minutes each week and the nearest village is several miles away.

His wife, who is 22 years younger than he, is anxious to learn what quarters she might find near the fortress. There now is talk of moving the 89-year-old prisoner to a warmer climate. Portalet is often blocked by snowdrifts covering the signs up the road to the fortress for weeks on end.

If medical authorities find Petain unable to stand the rigors of the Pyrenean mountain climate, it is possible he may be moved.

PETAINE PESSIMISTIC
Madame Petain received her first letter from her husband recently and he appeared pessimistic and discouraged, friends reported.

She gave them food, a change of clothes and forged papers. It was not until suspecting Germans questioned her landlady that she fled from her flat.

Local Girl Wed In Vancouver

St. Martin's Anglican Church, North Vancouver, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, September 16, at 5:30 p.m., when Edwina Joyce, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Polmar, 909 Falmouth Road, Victoria, exchanged marriage vows with Cpl. Herbert Cyril Image, R.C.A., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Image, 934 West Windsor Road, North Vancouver. Rev. Canon Thompson was the officiating minister, and the organist was in attendance.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy slipper satin, with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, net skirt, and lily-point sleeves. Her fingertip veil of embroidered silk net fell from a Mary Queen of Scots headdress, and the shower bouquet was composed of white carnations, red roses and fern. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Dorothy Image, was the flower girl, wearing a peach satin floor-length dress with headpiece of pale blue net and pink carnations. Miss Thelma Brewer, cousin of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of pale blue organza, and headpiece of blue net and pink and white carnations. Her bouquet consisted of pink carnations and white larkspur. P.O. Arthur Image, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Kenneth Polmar and Victor Howe.

The reception was held at the home of the groom, where the bride couple cut a three-tier wedding cake. For a honeymoon trip to Vancouver Island, the bride wore a three-piece pale green suit, with dark brown accessories, and corsage of white carnations.

Atom Energy Good or Bad

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Suppose scientists manage to harness atomic power completely—maybe not in this generation but perhaps in the next or the one after that—what then?

Dr. Paul F. Dodelsch, president of American University here, summarizes what a dozen scientists, teachers and government and religious leaders told me:

"We either are going to live on an atomistic plane, or we are going to have a flowering of civilization which is unparalleled and which will reflect itself in art, literature, music and beauty."

Although atomic energy may one day supplant coal and oil, irrigate waste lands, make agriculture possible indoors, eliminate plagues and reduce our enemies to plan objectives.

Although some predict we can have universal comfort, practically free transportation and unlimited supplies of material, Dr. Douglas predicts that with more energy and less work, this can happen:

More drunks, more suicides (just from a general desire to kill themselves), Or—new demands for music, literature, art and religion.

Dr. Douglas foresees a 30-hour work week in order to spread the remaining work around among millions thrown out of jobs in coal, petroleum and power industries.

Labor leaders say that if and when atomic power comes it will bring about increased production of many new products and will mean more jobs.

Nevertheless, those interviewed say we cannot ignore the possibility of having a lot of extra time on our hands. If man is going to keep out of trouble, they say, we've got to start planning how he can put those idle hours to useful pursuits.

You Can Live Without Food for Weeks

By Dr. J. B. WARREN

Everyone knows that a man must eat to live, but everyone does not know that, given water, a healthy man may live for a month or even two months without any food whatsoever. But during this period of emptiness there is a continuous loss of body weight; about a pound a day is lost. Although he is not getting any food, he is getting nourishment from his own body tissues to the amount of about one pound of fatty meat per day.

Work for Improvements

A campaign platform for the December civic elections was adopted by a meeting of trade union delegates at Liberal-Headquarters on Sunday, sponsored by the joint civic elections committee of the Vancouver Island Labor Conference.

Unanimous endorsement was given the following program:

Amalgamation of Greater Victoria municipalities, public ownership of a universal transportation system, development of adequate public library services and a cultural art centre, town planning and an adequate housing program, further industrialization of Lower-Vancouver Island, public ownership of utilities, development of a free port in the Victoria area and an active campaign to familiarize the public with the advantages of a free port.

A platform adopted by the committee for labor candidates for the school board included: Teaching history of the trade union movement as part of the school curriculum, teaching of a comprehensive course in citizenship, modernization of school and enlargement of teaching staffs, expansion of the existing text book service of the Department of Education and extension of pre-primary and supervised playground services.

LONDON (CP)—Three masked burglars bound and gagged the West-end and Woodford food office watchman and then went through the building looking for food and clothing coupons. It is not yet known how many coupons were taken.

The bidding:

1 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass

4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

North's conventional response to the opening spade bid was two clubs, but many experts prefer to mask their holdings and incidentally to place the on-trump that may be the best final contract in their own hands, so that the opening lead will come up to their kings. South, of course, was right in insisting on a spade contract.

West led his fourth highest diamond. East captured the queen and returned the same suit. West's lack of driving out the king. Declarer cashed the spade queen, and both he and East were disgusted to see West show out—declarer, because the bad break made two trump losers all too probable. East, because his trump holding had been exposed and now, when the trump four was led, he had to put in the ten to prevent South from winning the trick too cheaply.

Declarer smothered the ten, then led his singleton club. West, sensing that it was a singleton, hopped right in with the ace and then, shrewdly surmising that it would be helping South to make him ruff a diamond, shifted to hearts. South cashed his hearts and his other high trump honor, then sheepishly gave East two spade tricks. Down one.

With the trump position known, it was obviously necessary to shorten the South hand by ruffing a diamond after ducking on the club king. Then, having cashed his hearts, South simply should lead a low trump, forcing West to return a trump from his J-8 into South's K-9.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—Scattered rallies and industrialized modest recoveries in today's stock market, and early recessions running to more than three points were reduced elsewhere, but numerous leading stocks showed gains.

Declines for motors, rubbers, steel and assorted "blue chips" were most pronounced following an active opening. Improvement cropped up here and there by midday but dealings dwindled appreciably. Losses of fractions to two points were well in the majority at the close. Transfers totaled 900,000 shares, smallest for a full stretch since August 30, against 1,020,000 Friday.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 2 of a point at 87.9, a drop of 1.6 points in three successive sessions.

DEFLATION

INFLATION

YOU CAN'T GAMBLE WITH

THE DICE ARE LOADED AGAINST YOU

Canadians are lucky. So far we've prevented inflation and avoided deflation. It's not been just good luck. Your support—everybody's support—of price ceilings, rationing and other controls alone has made it possible.

BUT NOW COMES THE REAL TESTING TIME.

The danger of inflation and its black shadow, deflation, will last as long as goods are scarce and insufficient to meet demands. With the war over and plenty of money in our pockets it's easy to overlook the danger. It's easy to think that paying just a little more to get something we want is unimportant now. It's easy to think that what you do can't hurt—and to forget that careless, extravagant buying is a sure way to help a general rise in prices. That's how inflation gets going.

BUT INFLATION IS ALWAYS FOLLOWED BY DEFLATION.

And deflation brings cancelled orders, bankrupt businesses, mortgage foreclosures, unemployment and distress—distress you can't avoid. Until industry gets back to normal, price ceilings, rationing and other controls are our safeguard.

SO—Keep on watching your buying. Don't rush to buy scarce goods. Keep on saving your money. Put it into Victory bonds and War Savings certificates. Keep on supporting wage and price controls, and rationing. Keep on fighting inflation and its black shadow... deflation.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing a further increase in the cost of living now and deflation and unemployment later.

Denies Ship
Repair Report

A report from Montreal claiming that Yarrow Ltd. and the Victoria Machinery Depot Co., Ltd., were to share new deck jobs on the Princess Elizabeth and Princess Joan, was denied yesterday by H. S. Hammill, general manager of the V.M.D.

Norman Yarrow, president and general manager of Yarrow Ltd., said there was nothing definite on the matter. He admitted, however, there was some repair work to be done on the two vessels concerned.

He thought a portion of the work would be done this year. He described the proposed job as "maintenance work."

Mr. Hammill claimed he knew nothing of the job, but added that his firm hoped to do some repair work on C.P.R. ships before long. He felt sure that Victoria shipyards would be awarded the repair contract.

Archib. Muir, superintendent of V.M.D. Plant No. 1, said he knew the work was expected and believed definite work would be received within a week. He stated no plans or specifications regarding repair work to the two steamers had been received.

MANAGER OF SERVICE
Capt. O. J. Williams, manager of the C.P.R. British Columbia Coast Service, was out of town yesterday and not available for comment.

The Montreal dispatch claimed the main—freight, or automobile deck of each vessel was to be reconstructed at a cost of $30,000 for each vessel.

All four upper decks of the ships had been surveyed, it was claimed, with costs of relaying the four decks estimated to be as high as $400,000 for each ship. The figure is approximately half the original cost of each vessel. The job would involve tearing off the whole superstructure of each vessel.

First job, it was noted, would be

Newest Navy Fighter Unveiled

If the Japanese hadn't called it a day when they did, they would have had to reckon with this new fighter plane, known as the P-51, which was produced by the Goodrich Aircraft Corporation at Akron, Ohio, for the United States Navy, under the strictest secrecy. Existence of the plane has just been revealed. Limited production will continue. The P-51, which has a rate of climb half again as fast as that of the latest jet plane, is faster than its sister ship, the P-47, which set transcontinental records of better than 420 miles an hour earlier in the summer. It is equipped with specially designed vertical tail surfaces, including automatic auxiliary rudder and a 370-degree bubble canopy.

Court of Appeal
Victoria Sittings

The Court of Appeal yesterday heard representations from Gordon Wismer, K.C., on behalf of Alex Prince, an Indian from near Finlay Forks, who was convicted of murder and sentenced to death by Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris at Prince George on June 5.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Wismer, who was instructed by the Minister of Justice at Ottawa, told the court there was reason to believe that further investigation should be made into the background of the case, as it was suggested by Indians of the district that evidence not previously heard might exist. As counsel for Prince, Mr. Wismer requested the court to allow a further two weeks in which investigations might be made.

The Attorney-General, R. L. Maitland, who with P. E. Wilson, K.C., appears for the Crown, said he was chiefly concerned with the effect such a delay might have on the practice of the court. Following a short adjournment to consider the matter, Chief Justice Slogan, speaking for the full court, granted the delay requested and set October 1 as the date for commencement of the appeal.

Leave was granted to extend the time for filing appeal books in the case of Rex vs. McQueen.

The appeal of Daniel Harrison from the sentence of death at the Vancouver Assizes in June will open today. Convicted of the murder of Clifford Lennox on May 7, 1944, Harrison has been before the Assize Court twice and the Court of Appeal once. Counsel for Harrison have set forth 19 reasons for the appeal, and the case is expected to take up most of the remainder of the week.

Conclusion of argument by Desmond Rodenbour in his personal appeal which was commenced last Thursday will take place tomorrow morning, and will be followed by another personal appeal in Rex vs. Martens.

The decision of the court in the appeal of William Hatten from a death sentence will also be handed down. The appeal was heard by full court last week.

EATING
TOO MUCH?

Most People Do
and Pay the Penalty!

Many who feel "under the weather" are often guilty of overeating, especially rich, fatty foods. This often leads to a system overloaded with toxic wastes, a dull, tired feeling and eventual "middle-age spread."

A favorite British method of keeping fit and trim despite rich, heavy food is to take Bile Beans nightly. These small all-vegetable pills are so gentle they are called "The Medicine That Works in a Natural Way." Most people eat too heavily, exercise too little, so get BILE BEANS from your druggist and resolve to keep fit and youthful again.

Gift for Veteran

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17.—"Daddy" Sale, who fed royal princes and tough-skinned prospectors during half a century on the Northern British Columbia and Alaska steamship line, has retired from the B.C. Coast Service of the Canadian Pacific.

Chief Steward Leonard Sale's last vessel was the St. Princess Norah, and his shipmates sent him to harbor with a cash gift of $800. A real veteran of the northern ship lanes, Sale first went to Alaska 27 years ago.

He once served the present Duke of Windsor, and nearly every Governor-General of Canada on the British Columbia ships. He will make his home in North Vancouver.

Every Nation Should Have Equal Rights in Air Lines

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP).—Every country should have its equitable share of air transportation, Lord Winster, British Minister of Civil Aviation, said today in opening the conference here of the new International Air Transport Association.

"We want no share in air traffic which involved another nation's share," he said. "To this end we are willing to forego advantages which we at present possess."

Representatives of 14 countries were present when the association, successor to the old International Air Traffic Association, met to consider problems of civil aviation from a world aspect.

Lord Winster declared Britain is confident of its ability to build air services second to none.

He said those concerned in the future of civilian air transport realized they were dealing with a factor in human progress which outweighed national conceptions and brought them into the realm of world conception.

Our sincere thanks to

When Japan bombed Pearl Harbor, Southern Pacific became perhaps the most strategic railroad in the United States. Serving the West Coast ports of embarkation from San Diego to Portland, and more military and naval establishments than any other railroad, we were called upon to handle an enormous load.

We were able to handle this load successfully because of the great work of railroad men and women up and down the line, and with the help and cooperation of thousands of people not actually working for the railroad.

Now the war is over. The job is done. But we of Southern Pacific will never forget the way people stood by us when the task sometimes seemed bigger than our railroad.

We send our sincere thanks—

- to the Army, Navy and Government authorities for their sympathetic understanding of our problems.
- to the shippers who cheerfully put up with delays so that more vital war freight could go through on time, and who cooperated in many ways to conserve equipment.
- to our passengers, for their good-natured acceptance of crowded trains and other wartime discomforts.
- to the thousands of people who stayed off the trains to make room for service men and other essential travelers.
- to the press and radio which understood our operating difficulties and kept the public informed.

We do not know how quickly Southern Pacific can convert from war to peace. Soon transports will be landing thousands of war-weary men at West Coast ports, and many more must be brought back from Europe. These men will want to get home as quickly as possible. We intend to do our best to carry them in the comfort to which they are entitled. This job comes first, of course.

Meanwhile, we are planning luxurious new streamlined trains, new travel comforts and refinements in passenger service, and improvements in freight service. We intend to go forward aggressively with the West, earning our right to serve you solely on merit and performance.

SPORTS SLANTS

By SID THOMAS

Judging from the mad scramble for seats in the Western International Baseball League, there is every indication that plenty of diamond material will be available when the class "B" professional leagues next summer after being idle since 1942.

Most pleasing to many Victorians is the fact that W. T. Strath, M.P.A., and Laurel Haines, this city's baseball ambassadors, were able to sell the directors of the W.I.B.L. on admitting Victoria to the league.

The success enjoyed by the two Victorians who attended the meeting, assures hundreds of Victorians of the opportunity of seeing professional baseball right in their own backyard. In an "on the street poll" conducted by this department yesterday, we found a very favorable response to the move, with all of the questioned delighted with the proposal.

To the old-timers, of course, professional baseball in Victoria is not new. They recall very vividly the fixtures here in the old Northwest League, and the fact that Victoria sent a number of fine ball players up to the big time. Now, almost a quarter of a century later, with the return of the professional diamond pastime it will be to a large extent a new crowd of fans who will know the sport here.

Victoria is a good baseball town. That has been proven in the past. And with the professional diamond pastime and the added novelty of a lighted baseball park, Victorians will eagerly await the arrival of the summer of 1946 and this city's entry in the Western International Baseball League.

HERE AND THERE

Capt. Axel Kinnear, well-known Victoria baseball and basketball player, who has been overseas for five years, is heading home. The former member of the Victoria Dominions expects to reach the city about the end of this month.

Major Alf Penhew, another Victoria athlete, is also homeward bound, making the trip along with Capt. Kinnear. It may never happen, but reports are current along the local coast front that two senior "A" men's clubs will operate here during the coming season. The report adds that the British Columbia Branch of the Canadian Legion is interested in one club, while the other will let you guess that one.

English Rugby appears headed for a big upswing in interest during the coming season. Present indications point to the return of the Rugby Union of the J.B.A.A. and the Oak Bay Wanderers, two well-known clubs.

A friendly suggestion to the senior soccer clubs: How about each of the teams taking a junior squad in tow? We understand that Victoria West plans on such a move. It would like to see every senior team in the league bring along a junior eleven.

Victoria's American football team will go into action in its first game of the season next Friday under the lights at Port Angeles. Jack McCall, owner, who has guided the destinies of the V.M.D. soccer team for many seasons, will be at the helm again when the curtain lifts on the 1945-46 campaign. Our old friend Carl Rodway has been appointed secretary of the Victoria and District Football League. A keen football enthusiast and one who has followed the game for years, Mr. Rodway should prove a very valuable addition to the local soccer executive.

Brooklyn Dodgers Register 4-0 Win Over Chicago Cubs

Art Herring Turns in Three-Hitter Against National League Leaders—Cardinals Triumph

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Little Art Herring, brilliant, three-hitter, batted Brooklyn Dodgers a farewell 4-0 victory over Chicago Cubs today, immediately trimming the National League leaders' margin over second place St. Louis.

It was the eighth shutout inflicted on the Cubs, who tomorrow invade St. Louis for a three-game showdown with the Cards.

Herring completely baffled the batted Cubs, allowing only five runs to reach base, as the Brooks wound up with eight victories against 14 defeats in the season's last game. R H E Brooklyn 000 000 0 4 0 Chicago 000 000 0 0 0

LaMotta Puts Koehin Away in Ninth Round

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Jake LaMotta, the Bronx bull with the cement chin, turned trough to knock out George Koehin, a walk-in-and-waiter slinger from Akron, Ohio, in the ninth round of a Pier Six brawl in Madison Square Garden. LaMotta scaled 162, Koehin 163.

One of the smallest crowds in recent Garden history was on hand to see one of the wildest and most savage slugging matches ever put on there as the New Yorker posted his third straight victory over the former heavyweight champion.

From bell to bell, for round after round the pair of pounders wound up their high hard punches and jabs. Each lost was a Sunday shirt and each one was dazed, from way out in the crowd as these two feisty men were concentrated entirely on offense and let their chin handle the receiving end.
